

Rules & Laws?

Do we need rules? Do we need laws? Must we have tight controls?
Do we need telling not to kill or is it what a human naturally knows?
Do we need telling not to steal, or do we know that's wrong?
Do we need to be told not to trespass, or did we know it all along??

The system's rulers want us to believe we are inherently bad.
And that if we question any laws, that we must be totally mad!
It wants us to submit to all, and follow every rule.
The indoctrination starts at birth and continues right thru school!

Listen to your heart, ask yourself, do I know what's right?
Do I know what is wrong? Is the truth within my sight?
DO I need telling what to do, and must I abide by EVERY law?
Think about it for a while - how to behave is your own call.
